Nearly 60,000 expected at New York meeting

By Fred Michmershuizen, Online Editor
and Jaime McNiff, GNYDM Education Coordinator

Every year, the Greater New York Dental Meeting (GNYDM) attracts nearly 60,000 dental professionals from around the world, giving attendees the opportunity to view innovative dental products, learn about the latest procedures and explore new technologies. This year’s meeting, which organizers say will be better than ever, is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 26, through Wednesday, Dec. 1. Participants will come from around the globe to hear about and personally examine the newest products and equipment available to the dental profession. The latest technologies will be demonstrated on the exhibit floor, and representatives from each company will be there to teach attendees about these new offerings from around the world. Attendees will have the opportunity to touch, use and discover the newest materials.

The third annual Dental Tribune Study Club Symposium will also be held during the meeting. World-renowned experts will offer lectures on various topics. Participants will earn C.E. credits and will have the opportunity to learn about various aspects of dentistry and how to integrate a variety of treatment options into their practices.

The Scientific Session will be held throughout the entire six days of the event, and the exhibit hall will be open Sunday, Nov. 28, through Wednesday, Dec. 1.

Here are some additional highlights of this year’s event.

Joan Rivers

Monday’s Celebrity Luncheon will feature an American culture icon, Joan Rivers. As a comedian, TV host and CEO, Rivers is also a best-selling author, Emmy award-winning talk show host, Tony-nominated actress, Celebrity Apprentice winner, writer, director and savvy businesswoman.

The Celebrity Luncheon is also a way for the GNYDM to honor outstanding leaders of the dental profession. It is an opportunity to say “thank you” for the commitment they have made to further the welfare of the public. Attending the Celebrity Luncheon and seated honorably on the dais will be dignitaries from the dental profession. Two Live Dentistry Arenas

The GNYDM offers two modern and high-tech free “live” dentistry arenas from Sunday through Wednesday. The interactive live program features dental procedures performed on real patients from a stage before 500 attendees on either side of the exhibit floor.

Topics include orthodontics, esthetics, endodontics, pediatrics, implants, oral surgery, lasers and a hygiene program. Attendees are advised to arrive early because seating is limited to 500 in each arena.

Educational programs

Value: high-end exemplary programs, world-class clinicians, upscale programs and top-of-the-line innovations place the GNYDM at the head of its class in education.

Seminars begin with Dr. Ross Nash on Friday, Nov. 26, at 9 a.m. in the Westside Ballroom at the Marriott Marquis Hotel.

More than 500 seminars, workshops and essays are available from Friday, Nov. 26, through Wednesday, Dec. 1.

Botox/Dysport and dermal fillers

Cosmetic dentistry is on the up-and-up, gaining publicity across the nation and the globe. Dr. Bruce G. Freund and Dr. Zev Schulhof are co-founders of the American Academy of Facial Cosmetics and will present their class in education.

Hello New York City!

By Fred Michmershuizen, Online Editor

If you are coming to the Greater New York Dental Meeting, keep in mind that there is always plenty to see and do in the Big Apple. It doesn’t matter whether you have an hour or all day, whether you have money to spend or you are on a tight budget. When your business is finished at the dental meeting, head out on the town for a memorable time. Here are some ideas.

Practice your figure eight
The Rink at Rockefeller Center is open to the public. You can skate beneath the gilded statue of Prometheus and the glittering Christmas tree. You can even get skating lessons there if you like. For more information, call 212-332-7654 or visit www.patinagroup.com/east/icerink.

And if you are too shy to skate with thousands of tourists gawking at you from above, check out the Wollman Rink in Central Park, 212-439-6900, www.wollmanskatingrink.com; or the Sky Rink at Chelsea Piers at 23rd Street and the Hudson River, 212.336.6100, www.chelseapiers.com.

Escape to Houdini exhibit
Through impossibly daring feats, Harry Houdini (1874-1926) captivated audiences worldwide, and his legendary escapes instill awe to this day. “Houdini: Art and Magic” — the first exhibition in a major American art museum on the master magician and his lasting influence in visual culture — features magic apparatus, post- ers, broadsides, period photographs, archival films and contemporary artwork inspired by the great magician and escape artist. The exhibition reveals how Houdini’s reputation has evolved over time, and how the edgy performances and physical audacity excited audiences at the turn of the twentieth century. It’s at the Jewish Museum, 1109 Fifth Ave. at 92nd Street, (212) 423.3200, www.thejewishmuseum.org.

Visit an Irish pub
New York City has some of the best ethnic restaurants in the world. You don’t have to spend a fortune to have a great meal, either. Whatever your tastes, there is something sure to please your palate.

For example, if you want traditional Irish fare, wander in to one of the many pubs scattered throughout Midtown. If you are hungry for Italian food, you can’t go wrong at any of the authentic eateries along Mulberry Street. Those who have a taste for Indian will want to head to Gramercy Park or the East Village.

Kick it up with the Rockettes
If you are in town with children, you might want to treat them to the annual Radio City Christmas Spectacular, featuring the Rockettes.

This Christmas tradition has been delighting audiences young and old every holiday season for the past 75 years. For tickets, call (212) 907-1000 or visit www.radiocitychristmas.com. Shows are every day, but they sell out months in advance. So if you strike out with the box office, ask the concierge at your hotel to help you.

See a Broadway show
There are dozens of Broadway and Off-Broadway shows to choose from, and you can get discounted same-day tickets at the Theater Development Fund’s TKTS booth in Duffy Square. For evening performances, tickets go on sale at 5 p.m. For Wednesday matinees, the booth opens at 10 a.m., and on Sundays it opens at 11 a.m. To score your tickets for a show tonight, head over to Broadway and 47th Street. Look for the gleaming red step.

Get to the Top of the Rock
You can see just about everything in New York City from top of Rockefeller center, an Art Deco masterpiece of a building. The lines for Top of the Rock are much shorter than at the Empire State Building, yet the views are just as awe-inspiring. Tickets are expensive but worth it. It’s located in Midtown at 50 Rockefeller Plaza.
