Hydrogum

Hydrogum is a proven solution for reducing voids in In-Silicone impressions. Hydrogum reduces the surface tension on the preparation, therefore increasing the ability of the composite to flow into the intricacies of the etched surface. It is available in a vial with a built-in applicator and no need to dilute or mix. The light-curing adhesive ExciTE F and ExciTE F DSC are fluoride-containing products. The light-curing adhesive ExciTE F is used in all cavities where the erosion or the curing light will be able to cure the adhesive. ExciTE F and ExciTE F DSC are also used with a cordless device. The light-curing adhesive ExciTE F is used in all cavities where the erosion or the curing light will be able to cure the adhesive.

DENTISTRY CONGRATULATES THE CHANCE TO WIN £500 SERVICES

DENTISTRY would like to congratulate Mr. Hardeep Sandhu, who recently won £500 at the DENTISTRY ‘Investing in Better Dentistry’ competition.

Mr Sandhu was visiting the exhibition with colleagues and was drawn as the final contestant. He was hugely surprised to win the competition, said Mr. Sandhu, a dental nurse at The Haven Green Clinic in Ealing. ‘I really wasn’t expecting to leave with a £500 cheque, I still can’t believe it!’

The competition was an element of DENTISTRY’s ongoing Investing In Better Dentistry programme, founded by the UK Dental Trusts and Schools Grants, which assists students to gain access to the latest products and techniques, to the DENTISTRY Continuous Education Programmes, the company aims to provide support and guidance to dental professionals throughout their careers.

I have always found DENTISTRY to be very supportive,’ said Mr Sandhu. ‘The representatives who visit us at the surgery are invaluable. They provide us with all the information we need, and are always great to deal with.
